6. CHANGES TO THIS WEBSITE

At our discretion and at any time, we may, without any notice to you, add to, remove, amend, alter, suspend or terminate this website or any Website Content.

7. GENERAL PRIVACY POLICY

Personal data is defined as any information related to any individual, which makes it possible to identify said individual. When dealing with personal data, PSD International agrees that its staff adheres to the standards of confidentiality and security prescribed by law.

This Privacy Statement embodies PSDI's unfaltering commitment to protecting your personal data and define its practice in regards to the retention, collection, sharing and storage of personal data.

8. USE AND COLLECTION OF PERSONAL DATA

PSD International will periodically collect personal data from you, which shall be used solely for the purpose determined at the time of collection, or for any purpose disclosed in this Privacy Statement. Aforementioned purposes may include fulfilling any of your specific applications or requests in relation to PSDI's jobs, services, etc., enquiries or feedback, processing of any complaints, or the verification and identification of you as a user. Any personal data or information provided is completely voluntary. Bear in mind, if you do not provide all of the requested information by PSD International, it could hinder PSDI unable to fully process your requests, or at all.

PSD International will document your visit to this website. This recording will show the server address, domain name, and detail of the pages visited. PSDI will only collect information about the types and number of visitors by association to their domain name server address. We use this information to prepare routine statistics on the website's usage and may be divulged by PSD International to any court, PSDI's legal advisers, or regulatory authorities in the case of any unlawful use of this website.

Cookies may be collected and stored on your computer's system, when you use this website, depending on your browser settings. Cookies are small data files, stored on your computer's hard drive, which allow us to identify you from other users of the website, and to provide a customized browsing experience for you. These cookies also allow us to monitor and count the amount of visitors to our website and their usage of it. You may, at your own discretion, choose to disable the accepting of cookies on your web browser, this may, however, affect the performance of the website.

9. SECURITY

Should there come to be any electronically stored data, it will be retained in a password-protected form. Any personal data obtained, be it stored electronically on computers or a hard-copy, shall be only accessible by authorized officers or PSD International employees. Designated personal data PSDI personnel shall comply with this Disclaimer and be told how to abide by and achieve PSD International's commitment to you.

PSDI will not disclose any personal data, provided by you, to any third parties, except as detailed in this Disclaimer, with your prior consent, or as disclosed to you at time of collection.

10. HYPERLINKS
